BCYF Program Guide 2011-2012

Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF) is the City of Boston's largest youth and human service agency offering programs and activities for people of all ages at 35 facilities in Boston. We are proud to be setting the standard in creating, planning and implementing quality programs at our centers and understand that quality programs can lead to positive developmental outcomes for youth, including improved academic achievement and emotional and behavioral health.

The BCYF Program Guide 2011-2012 contains dozens of neighborhood-based programs for Bostonians of all ages. Each month, BCYF offers over 400 programs ranging from education to enrichment to a wide range of sports programs and leagues. This guide is intended to give you a general idea of what we offer during the non-summer months of the year. For your convenience, a list of BCYF community centers and phone numbers are included on the previous page and a contact name and e-mail address is listed under each community center name in this brochure.

BCYF is committed to providing high-quality, outcome-driven programs that are responsive to neighborhood needs. To reach this goal, we have developed a comprehensive program framework known as ACES: Arts, Community & Civic engagement, Education, and Sports. Each of BCYF's community centers offers a unique approach to ACES and opportunities vary from center to center. The programs that are included in this guide are arranged by ACES category under the center name offering it. If you see something that interests you, we encourage you to contact the BCYF community center directly for additional program, registration and fee information.
